50-54 CANNON STREET

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

(By Fanny Crosby.)

Along our country's towering hills,
Majestic, grand, sublime,
The music of a century bell
Rings out a tuneful chime.
It swells aloft its mighty tone
Beneath the same bright ray
That shone on Abraham Lincoln's birth
A hundred years to-day.

A patriot born at God's behest,
Created by His will
To tread a path of toil and then
The chair of state to fill.
And when in favor with the world
By honest deeds he grew,
He said, I do not hope to win,
But only hope to be true.

He never shrank from duty's call,
'Twas his unmovable stand
And wield a nation's destiny
With firm and steady hand.
A well earned plaudit crowned his life,
And crowned it till its close;
True to his friends, benign and kind,
And generous to his foes.

There came a night of deepest gloom
That I remember well,
A fatal shot had done its worst,
A noble chieftain fell.
A martyr to the cause he loved,
His life blood ebb'd away
Beneath the star that hailed his birth,
A hundred years to-day.

They wrapped him in the dear old flag
And gently laid to rest
As true a heart as ever beat
Within a human breast.
Tho' years, long years, since then have Flown.

We tell his peerless worth,
And here beneath the light of peace
We celebrate his birth.

Dear children of the Shelton school,
For what you all have done
To prove your patriotic zeal,
God bless you every one,
You gave the tablet that records
His memory and his name,
And he perchance from Heaven beholds
And knows from whom it came.

Oh, children, live as once he lived,
Be loyal, just and true,
God spare your worthy principal
To labor still with you;
To lead you onward, step by step,
Beneath the same bright ray
That shone on Abraham Lincoln's birth,
A hundred years to-day.

HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE.
The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady. F. B. Brill, local agent.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.
The many friends and acquaintances of Jennie E., wife of William H. Campbell, of 22 George street, a well known and highly respected resident of the city, will be pained to hear of her death which occurred at her home yesterday after an illness of several months. The deceased was 39 years of age and besides her husband is survived by one child. She was the only daughter of Truett officer and Mrs. Russell Glenn.

Special $40 Suits $19

MADE TO MEASURE AT
EXTRA $7 TROUSERS FREE

Here's an interesting story!

Gentleman came in t'other day to select a suit. Wanted something swell, for a swell occasion—his wedding.

"Something at about $40.00," he said.

We showed him the woollens we're making to order at $19. He was stumped at our low price. When we told him the price included an extra pair of $7.00 Trousers free, he said:

"Well, I ought to be bumped. I've been paying more than that for hand-me-downs, for years, and never had one to fit me. Take my measure."

There are hundreds of other men who would be just as agreeably surprised if they knew the splendid values we're giving in these special $19 Suits.

We're making them from a handsome lot of pure woollens we snapped on to at about half value. Strictly new colorings and patterns. Right up to the minute. Come and see them, and you, too, will be quick to say: "Take my measure."

Still making $25 Suits at $10

Nobby remnants we cleaned up from the Dover, N.H., woolen mills. Extra trousers free with these, too.

POINTS OF INTEREST.

February Clearance Sale
of trimmed dress hats, fur neck scarfs, fur muffs, fur sets, shirt waists, rain-coats, long cloth coats, tailored suits, separate cloth skirts, petticoats, and millinery trimmings at E. H. Dillon & Co., 1105 Main St.

Buy That Black Suit To-day.
You will not have a chance like this one in "moons"—real $15 suit value for $10—and you ought to have at least one black suit. "Crow Black" cheviot suits are guaranteed leaders of their class. John P. Keane & Co., Main at John. See about yours now.

Think This Over.
It won't do to fill your coal bins with "just coal"—if you do you will have everlasting trouble in making your furnace heat the house or your stoves cook your meals properly. It is almost impossible for the layman to be able to pick out the best coal at a glance, therefore, the best policy is to give your orders to a coal dealer who takes particular pains in buying his stock—orders entrusted to The Naugatuck Valley Ice Co. will be filled promptly with the best coal mined, nut, stove, eggs or furnace. Main office, 421 Houseatic avenue, downtown office, 154 Fairfield avenue, just west of Main St. Telephone.

Eleven Cents a Pound.
Three regular lines of candy, and each well worth the price will be cut to 11c per pound at The Puritan, the candy store at 199 Fairfield avenue tomorrow. Think of that; the well known peanut blocks, the equally well known cocoanut taffy and a brand new one, sassafras molasses drops. Each of these for 11 cents a pound or a pound of each, three in all for 30c. Lovers of fine candies should take advantage of these offers and lay in a supply of sweets for the coming week.

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWS LA GRIPPE.

Pneumonia often follows la grippe but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, for la grippe coughs and deep seated colds. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. F. B. Brill, local agent.

Judge and Mrs. Thomas C. Coughlin entertained a party of their relatives and friends with a dinner last night at The Stratfield in celebration of the fifth anniversary of their marriage.

A Gentle Hint.

A lady who suffered from a neighbor's fowls that overran and spoiled her garden politely asked her neighbor several times to keep his pets at home, but no attention was paid to her grievance. Finally she hit upon an ingenious method of protecting herself. She prepared grains of corn by tying to them with a strong thread small cards bearing the words, "Please keep your chickens at home," and distributed the grains about her flower beds. The chickens came to feast as usual and greedily swallowed the corn, not perceiving the thread until the card was against their beaks. Then they could neither swallow the card nor rid themselves of the swallowed corn. Twenty or thirty of the marauders ran home, bearing the polite request to their culpable owner, who, struck with the method of the hint, promptly cut the threads and cooped up his fowls.—Bombay Times.

Drinkers' Logic.

"Men drink," said a temperance lecturer, "because they are happy, because they are sad, because they are too warm, because they are too cold. Is there any logic in that?"
"When I see men drinking I think of a little boy at the seashore."
"This little boy, at play with his bucket and shovel in the sand, suddenly ran to the edge of an advancing wave and, scooping up a handful of salt water and foam, drank it greedily."
"Oh, don't drink that," said his nurse. "It will make you thirsty."
"What if it does?" said he. "There's plenty more!"

Making It Last.

A young man was lately leaving his aunt's house after a visit when, finding it was beginning to rain, he caught up an umbrella that was snugly placed in a corner and was proceeding to open it when the old lady, who for the first time observed his movements, sprang toward him, exclaiming: "No, no; that you never shall! I've had that umbrella twenty-three years, and it has never been wet yet, and I am sure it shan't be wetted now!"—London Express.

A Good Reason.

"Pa's a great admirer of the secret ballot system."
"Why?"
"Because it affords him a great chance to say afterward that he voted for all the winners."—Judge.

One pound of learning requires ten pounds of common sense to apply it.—Persian Proverb.

Not So Sharp.

"That is a sharp young man your daughter is going with these days."
"Not so sharp as he thinks he is. He thinks he is going to stick me for a home and puncture my bank account, but he isn't!"—Houston Post.

His Wonderful Method.
"You haven't been married very long, have you?" said a guide at the state capitol to a young man who was signing "Mr. and Mrs." in the register for visitors at the desk at the entrance.

"How did you know?" demanded the young man.
"Oh, we get used to such people here and can tell them every time," was the response. "You haven't written that name with 'Mrs.' very long, have you? I believe I can tell how long you have been married from the signature," the guide continued.

"Well, we haven't been married very long, but I don't see how you can tell from the signature. How long has it been?"

"Well, let me see." The guide picked up the book and scanned the name closely.

"You have been married five days today," he said with an air of certainty.

"That's right, it's five days, but I don't see how you can tell."

The young wife had been sitting on the marble bench during the colloquy, and not until the couple went out of the building did she tell "hubby" that the guide had accosted her in the same way and that she had told when they had been married.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Bavarian Distances.
In the Bavarian highlands signposts along the roads, instead of stating the number of miles or kilometers to the various villages, give the amount of time which the average pedestrian will supposedly take to traverse the distance. This is merely an official expression of the very general custom of the peasants in the region, who invariably tell inquirers on the roads not how far it is to a place, but how long it takes to get there. Not only that,
